Anti-Asian Violence in Context: Historical Roots and Contemporary Connections

April 13, 2021
2PM–3:30PM EST • Online
Register: tinyurl.com/bahai-wong

JANELLE WONG
Professor of Asian American Studies,
University of Maryland

Janelle Wong is Professor of Asian American Studies, American Studies and Government and Politics at the University of Maryland. Her research and teaching focus on Asian Americans and race in the U.S.

This event features a discussion between Professor Hoda Mahmoudi and Professor Janelle Wong on the recent anti-Asian violence. The discussion will focus on the historical context and contemporary connections of the recent attacks.